

China Chamber of Commerce for Import & Export of Medicines & Health Products

Established in May 1989, China Chamber of Commerce for Import and Export of Medicines and Health Products (CCCMHPIE) is the most internationalized and influential healthcare industry association in China, affiliated to Chinese Ministry of Commerce. CCCMHPIE has a membership of about 2400, over 100 leading ones of which are serving as presidential or vice presidential members of CCCMHPIE. Areas of responsibilities include policy and industry coordination, conferences and trainings, exhibitions registration consulting, market surveys and analysis reports in traditional Chinese medicines, pharmaceuticals, medical devices and dressings, biopharmaceuticals, functional cosmetics, etc.

As a sunrise industry in modern economy, the healthcare industry has seen rapid progress over the years, which also brought about unprecedented opportunities. Over the years, CCCMHPIE has been devoted to the internationalization of the Chinese healthcare industry, and trying to offer professional services to increase company's competitiveness, participate in government policy-making and better reflect the interests of the industry. It is committed to promoting the dialogues and exchanges between the industry and the government, gaining bigger policy support to help companies go global.

Now, CCCMHPIE maintains close relationships with its counterparts across the world, including those of UK, US, Russia, Japan, Korea, ASEAN, Africa, central and Eastern Europe. It has signed long-term cooperation agreements with over 10 drug regulatory authorities, healthcare industry or trade promotion agencies. In recent years, in collaboration with its partners, CCCMHPIE has taken healthcare delegations to these countries and regions for industry dialogues and match-makings with local companies, influence of which and its professional services helped CCCMHPIE to be widely recognized within the industry. It has become an important platform to facilitate internationalization of the Chinese healthcare industry.

Hewei Zhao

Director of Administrative Committee of Changzhou West Taihu Lake Science & Technology Industrial

Company Profile:

Changzhou West Taihu Lake Science and Technology Industrial Zone (WEZ), located in the geometric center of Yangtze River Delta, with a convenient traffic network and prosperous economy. WEZ is boasting 14 km gold shoreline of West Taihu Lake which covers an area of 164 km², and 42% green coverage, with a rare First-class ecological environment in the south of Jiangsu.

In order to enhance medical industrial cluster influence, WEZ specially set up West Taihu Lake International Medical Industrial Park (WIM). In 2013 WIM was awarded of the title of “Changzhou National Medical Device International Innovation Park” by Ministry of Science and Technology as well as the title of “National Medical Device Foreign Trade Demonstrative Base” by Ministry of Commerce. In 2015, “China-Israel Changzhou Innovation Park” marked that China and Israel governments formally built the first innovation park together. In 2016 WIM was awarded of the title of “Cross-Strait (Changzhou) Health Industry Cooperation Zone” by Taiwan Affairs Office of the State Council. Now WIM is the only characteristic medical industrial park in Changzhou.

Changzhou is well-known for its medical device industry across China with more than 390 medical device manufacturers in the city. WIM has already developed five key sub-industrial groups: orthopedic implants, IVD, Surgical tools, medical supplies and rehabilitation equipment. At present, WIM has attracted 120 medical device manufacturers, and leading medical manufacturers, such as Sinopharm and Germany JRS, have settled in WIM and formed initial industrial cluster.

Technical Aids – Changzhou Institute, and Changzhou International Medical Instrument City which functions like expo and trading platforms have settled in WIM to support medical industrial development. In order to promote International exchange and transfer of technology and knowledge, WIM is actively building International medical industrial cooperation platforms, mainly focusing on cooperation with Israel, Europe, the United States and Taiwan. WIM plans to build 6 functional platform: Healthcare Industrial Manufacturing Area, R&D/Incubation/Outsourcing Area, Office/Exhibition/Trade Area, Industrial Service Platform Area, International Cooperation Innovation Area, Healthcare Service Experience Area.

In order to provide quick services to medical companies in WIM, Jiangsu Provincial Food and Drug Administration (JSFDA), Changzhou Municipal Food and Drug Administration (CZFDA) and Wujin District Food and Drug Administration (WJFDA) set a joint office in WIM. WIM also has established 2 professional investment funds to support medical industrial development

Besides supporting medical manufacturing, WIM is also emphasizing the development of healthcare service industry, including medical consultation, clinics, rehabilitation, health care, medical tourism and healthcare management to improve the healthcare industrial chain and build a demonstration area. In 2014 WIM was awarded of the title of “Changzhou International Medical Tourism Pilot Area” by Jiangsu Provincial Government.

In the future, WIM will continuously follow its two development guidelines, focusing on medtech manufacturing and healthcare services. WIM has been putting an emphasis on its 5 characteristic medical industrial development, and on building a cluster of listed medical company and a International cooperation zone with the United States, Europe, Japan and Israel.
